- 2 Instantly access multimedia resources about each title by clicking on the book cover of interest.

3 Integrate into your work a variety of instructional materials, including:

- Links to author and illustrator personal websites and blogs
- Audio recordings of authors pronouncing and telling stories about their names
- Book discussion questions and activity guides
- Audio booktalks with authors, illustrators, and professional narrators
- Author interviews in video, audio, and written formats
- Video Book Trailers

Book & Author Resources summarize the materials available for this title.

“Text Complexity” and “About the Book” offer metadata about the title, including suggested grade levels, Lexile levels, and more.

Note: Resources for the titles on the booklists are freely provided to all libraries and patrons. You do not need to be a TeachingBooks.net subscriber to access the materials for these booklists. But if you search or go away from the sponsored resources, you will be prompted to sign in or register for a free trial.
