Dear Daria:

I know that you are aware of this but this letter is my official notification to you that I will be retiring from my position at the South Dakota State Library on June 6, 2014. I have already notified HR and SDRS of my intent and have filled out retirement papers with both offices.

After working for the State Library for just short of 37 years, I've had many opportunities for growth and many interesting experiences most of which I cherish. I've enjoyed almost all of my time working here. I have to say that moving up down between floors and packing a collection into 40 pound boxes were not among my favorites. I will miss working with everyone and having contact with them on a daily basis. I am, however, completely ready to retire.

We have begun the discussion of how my job duties will be divided between other staff members. If there are ever any questions after I'm gone, please feel free to call me.

Sincerely,

Jean M. Peterson
Acquisitions Librarian
